ABSTRACT

Teacher is the main pillar of educational system. It is to him compulsory to have teaching aptitude and responsibility in his job. An attempt has made to determine the difference between teaching aptitude and responsibility feeling among secondary school teachers. A sample consisting of 100 secondary school teachers were chosen in this study. Sample was equally divided on sex and locale base. After statistical treatment it revealed that sex and locale has no significant effect on teaching aptitude and responsibility. However minute differences were found in some cases.
